

Know New England's INVASIVE PLANTS

We've compiled a list of 20 of New England's most common non-native species—ones you may find in your own backyard.

Multiflora Rose

Rosa multiflora

Oriental Bittersweet

Celastrus orbiculatus

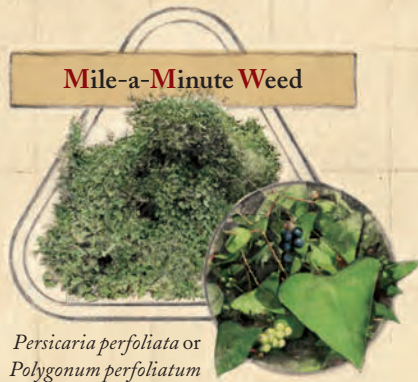

Giant Hogweed

Heracleum mantegazzianum

Autumn Olive

Elaeagnus umbellata

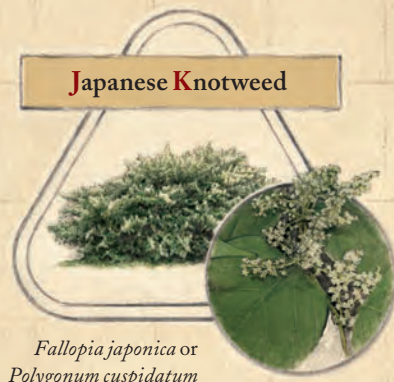

Mile-a-Minute Weed

Persicaria perfoliata or
Polygonum perfoliatum

Japanese Stilt Grass

Microstegium vimineum

Japanese Knotweed

Fallopia japonica or
Polygonum cuspidatum

Common Reed

Phragmites australis

Garlic Mustard

Alliaria petiolata

Porcelainberry

Ampelopsis brevipedunculata

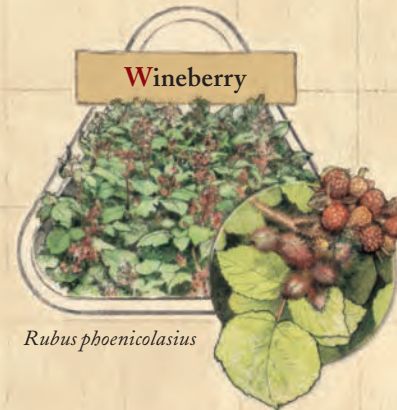

Tree-of-Heaven

Ailanthus altissima

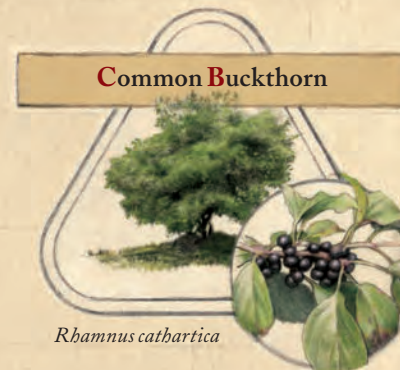

Purple Loosestrife

Lythrum salicaria

Wineberry

Rubus phoenicolasius

Common Buckthorn

Rhamnus cathartica

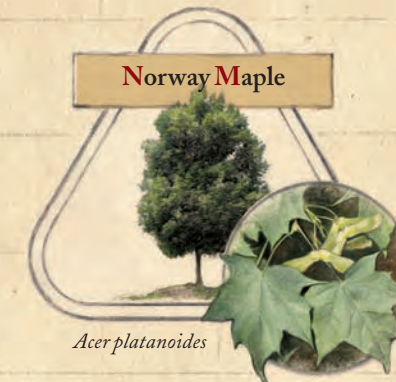

Japanese Barberry

Berberis thunbergii

Burning Bush

Euonymus alatus

Norway Maple

Acer platanoides

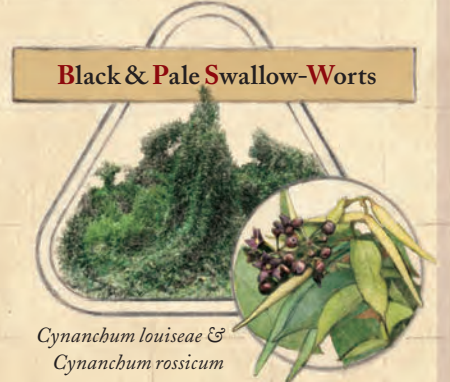

Vine & Shrub Honeysuckles

Lonicera japonica,
L. maackii,
L. morrowii,
L. tatarica

Black Locust

Robinia pseudoacacia

Black & Pale Swallow-Worts

Cynanchum louiseae &
Cynanchum rossicum

FOR MORE INFORMATION ...

New England Wild Flower Society

newfs.org

Invasive Plant Atlas of New England

eddmaps.org/ipane

Source: Donna Ellis, Senior Extension Educator,
University of Connecticut; co-chair, Connecticut Invasive Plant
Working Group (hort.uconn.edu/cipwg)